BROCKTON.

Municipal Nominations—Fifteen Candidates for Five Vacancies.

Village Council Meeting—Public Meeting re Schoolmaster's Dismissal.

Very many residents in the village attended at the Municipal Hall last evening to take part in the nominations for the village Council. The Council consists of a Reeve and four Councillors, viz., Dr. McConnell (Reeve), and Councillors Morrow, Woods, Sheppard, and Frankish. The following are the nominations:—

For Reeve—Dr McConnell, proposed by Kenneth McLennan, seconded by Michael Griffin; Thos Abbs, proposed by John Mallon, seconded by Joseph Reading, and Henry Meredith, proposed by H Sheppard, seconded by P Kearns.

For Councillors—John McKenzie, proposed by J Reading, seconded by Henry Meredith; M J Woods, proposed by John McKenzie, seconded by Henry Meredith; F B Morrow, proposed by M Boland, seconded by Edward Abbs; C L Denison, proposed by T Boland, seconded by Robt Gray, jr; R Guthrie, proposed by Jas Davis, seconded by Jno Marshall; Hy Sheppard, proposed by Hy Meredith, seconded by P Kearns; Wm Awde, proposed by Robt Grar, jr, seconded by A McGregor; John Fryer, proposed by Wm Awde, seconded by Robt Worm; Thos Boland, proposed by Dr McConnell, seconded by Wm Awde; John Maloney, jr, proposed by Dr McConnell, seconded by N G Lee; Robt Gray, jr, proposed by C L Denison, seconded by R Worm; Robt Rankin, proposed by C L Denison, seconded by R Guthrie.

Mr D MacMichael, village clerk, acted as Returning Officer. A poll was demanded and fixed for Monday next. A meeting was then held, Mr. MacMichael being called to the chair. The various candidates addressed the ratepayers, giving their sentiments on municipal matters.

The meeting lasted from one o'clock till four, both speakers and audience being very excited and many hard words being used on both sides.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The last meeting of the Council was held last evening, the Reeve in the chair, and all the members present except Councillor Frankish. The chief matter of interest in the proceedings was the passing of a resolution, on the motion of Councillor Morrow, extending the time for the collection of taxes until January 14th without the addition of 5 per cent.; and of a second resolution, moved by Councillor Morrow and seconded by Councillor Sheppard, that the estimates of the expenditure for the year be reduced by $712, being the amount set aside by the Council for uncollected taxes, and alleged to be illegally placed in the estimates.

PUBLIC MEETING RE SCHOOLMASTER'S DISMISSAL.

A public meeting was held last evening to consider the matter of the dismissal of Mr. Alexander Muir by the Brockton Public School Board from his position as master in the village school. Mr. C. L. Denison was called to the chair. Several petitions were presented largely signed by children attending the school, and by the parents of the same, asking that the services of Mr. Muir be retained as schoolmaster. It was stated that these will be presented to the Board at their next meeting.

Mr. Hy. J. MEREDITH moved, seconded by Mr. Robt. RANKIN, a resolution to the effect that whereas Mr. Muir had performed the duties of his late position in a thorough, satisfactory, and conscientious manner, the conduct of the Board in discharging him was highly censurable and unwarranted. The resolution was unanimously passed, and was followed by another, calling upon the Board either to reappoint Mr. Muir as schoolmaster or to resign their positions. The successor appointed to Mr. Muir by the Board is Mr. J. Clark, formerly of Toronto, but lately of a school at Davenport. His duties were to have commenced immediately after the Xmas holidays.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

There are two vacancies in the Public School Board, the retiring members being Mr. D. Dean and Mr. H. Weatherdon. Mr. Weatherdon stands for re-election, but Mr. Dean retires. The new candidates are Messrs. F. Meredith, A. McGregor, and W. Muntz. The election takes place to-morrow.

A SHANTY PUT TO LARIZES.

Village Constable Kelly on Sunday morning when passing an old house on St. Lawrence avenue, near the Northern track, saw smoke issuing from the windows. Knowing the owners to be away he investigated, and discovered that the place had been broken into, apparently a few hours previously, everything thoroughly ransacked, and an attempt made to burn the place down. About three hundred yards from the place the constable found a couple of carpenter's saws, a chisel, and a well-conditioned buffalo robe, presumably a portion of the enterprising burglar's booty. The constable has the articles in his possession until the owner shows up.

CRUSHED BY A TRAIN.

Patrick Garritty Badly Injured on the Esplanade.

The switchman at the foot of Church-street going to signal the Northern train at about eight o'clock last night, found a man's hat lying among the tracks. Going a little further east he saw a man lying lengthwise along a rail. He was insensible, and had been bleeding freely. The ambulance was obtained, and the unfortunate man carried to the Hospital. It was found that his name was Patrick Garritty, and that his home was at 40 Agnes-street, and a message was sent to his wife, who soon arrived. His injuries were found to be of a serious character. There was a compound fracture of the left hip joint, and also a fracture of the left arm at the elbow joint. The man remained insensible, and only rallied once, and at last accounts was sinking. It is not known how the accident happened, but it is supposed that he was knocked down and run over by a train while walking home from the house of a friend who lives at the corner of Front and Sherbourne streets. Garritty is about 38 years of age, a pensioner, and for some time worked at Armstrong's foundry.

MASONIC.

Presentation to the Retiring Worshipful Master of Zetland Lodge.

At the regular communication of Zetland Lodge on Friday last the retiring Worshipful Master was presented with a handsomely illuminated address and elegant past master's jewel. R. W. Bro. J. B. Nixon, P.D.D.G.M., installed the officers as follows:—J. B. Hay, W.M.; R. G. Routh, S.W.; L. A. Catlaw, J.W.; J. Conner, Secretary; J. W. O'Hara, Treasurer; Rev. D. McCarroll, Chaplain; S. Davison, S.D.; J. Smith, J.D.; C. Brown, and J. McKnight, Stewards; F. H. Hodgins, I.G.; J. Pritchard, Tyler.

After the ceremony the W. M. in a few appropriate remarks, presented the retiring W. Master with the following address:—

To William Macdonald, Esq., M.A., Past Master of Zetland Lodge, No. 329, A. F. & A. M., G. R. C.

DEAR SIR AND W. BRO.,—As you leave this evening been privileged to take another step on the royal road to dignity and honour in the craft, we, the past masters, wardens, officers, and members of Zetland Lodge, venture to express the hope that your connection with Freemasonry will confirm your past experience, and that the more you understand the more you will admire our principles and our practices. The name given to you this night no man knoweth save him that receiveth it. In recognition of the valuable services you have for many years officially rendered to Zetland Lodge, and the exemplary conduct you have set the brethren in visiting sister lodges, and in encouraging a reciprocation of those visits, in your punctuality in attendance at all meetings, the correctness of your work, your desire to inculcate a knowledge of our science and morals, your rectitude and justice towards the members, your kindness and courtesy of manner, and your uprightness and integrity of action, symbolized by the jewel of your office, mark the distinguishing characteristic of your heart, we would in esteem for your noble qualities desire to express our high appreciation of your many virtues by presenting you with this Past Master's jewel as a memento of our regard and respect and the love we bear you as a friend and brother.

(Signed) J. B. HAY, W. M. J. CONYET, Sec.

Toronto, Dec. 28th, 1883.

Past Master Brother Macdonald regretted that he had been taken so completely by surprise that he was unable suitably to express his thanks for the handsome address, the terms of which were far too flattering. He had endeavoured to do his duty, and was proud to have earned the friendship and esteem of Zetland Lodge, the kindness of the members of which he could never forget.

WATCH-NIGHT SERVICES.

Ringing Out the Old Year—Watching for the New.

EXERCISES OF THE SALVATION ARMY.

Watch-Night services were held in connection with several of the city churches last night. At the school-house of St. James' Cathedral there was a good attendance. The service was conducted by Rev. R. W. E. Greene and Rev. Canon Dumoulin, the latter of whom preached a sermon upon the words found in I Cor. vii. 29:—"But this I say, brethren, the time is short." These words suggested a comparison between the boundless ages of eternity and the short space of time allotted to man here, a time which derived its importance only from the fact that in it must be the preparation for the life to come. He asked his hearers to consider how they would spend the last half-hour of the old year if it were the last hour of life, and whether it would not be spent in preparing to meet God. After the chimes had tolled out the Dead March in Saul, the last few minutes of the year were allotted to silent prayer.

There was a large congregation at St. George's Church, the Rector, Rev. J. D. Cayley, officiating. The full surpliced choir was present and rendered appropriate music for the occasion. A few minutes before twelve the Rector delivered a short address to the congregation, the next few minutes being devoted to silent prayer. At the conclusion of the service the Holy Communion was celebrated, a large number of the congregation remaining.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Perhaps the best attended watch-night service in the city was that under the auspices of the Salvation Army. The doors were opened about half-past nine o'clock, and long before the appointed hour of the service—eleven o'clock—the barracks were crowded. On entering the large hall a wonderful sight presented itself. There were about two thousand people clapping their hands, and singing beatily a Salvation Army hymn to the tune of "Peek-a-Boo." Town Captain Ware, who was in charge of the service, read the ninetieth psalm with such feeling as is seldom seen at divine service. After making some explanatory remarks, he asked all present to take part in the "knee-drill" exercises, which lasts till after the entrance of the New Year. After the service of prayer the audience took part in a number of lively songs, during which some of the army were jumping up and down on the floor, while others were shouting at the tops of their voices. In an instant, at the signal of the captain, about five hundred handkerchiefs of different colours were waving in the air, while the singing was still in progress. The services were kept up till about half-past twelve, when the order was given to "fall in" for the first march in the New Year. At that moment drums were sounded, and the band struck up the tune, "Marching through Georgia." The proceedings put a person in mind of an army preparing for a sudden attack. All was confusion. While some were trying to get out into the open air, the roughs outside the door tried to force their way in. Such a scene—some of the male members of the corps were dancing on the floor, others were shaking hands, others were singing, while the stranger stood on the seat watching the proceedings in wonderment. About five minutes later the army was in marching order. The signal "quick march" was given, and the column, about 500 strong, wended its way along Richmond-street to Brock, down Brock to King, along King to York, and up York to Queen, and back to the barracks, where they dispersed. As the army marched through the streets thousands of people watched them from the upper windows. Roughs pelted snow at the members, especially the women, while other young men, not members of the army, marched in the ranks singing the songs with a will. Notwithstanding the peculiar mode of worship, one could not help but think that there was sincerity and spirituality on the part of those participating.

A WORTHY MANAGER.

Mr. Edmund Wragge Presented with a Silver Service by the Employees of the Toronto, Grey, & Bruce Railway Co.

A pleasing circumstance occurred at the Union Station last night, when the employees of the Toronto, Grey, & Bruce Railway Company, assembled in one of the waiting rooms, presented their late General Manager, Mr. Edmund Wragge, with a beautiful set of solid silver as a token of their high esteem of that gentleman. Mr. Wragge, it will be remembered, on the amalgamation of the Toronto, Grey, & Bruce Railway with the Ontario & Quebec Railway, was appointed local manager of the Grand Trunk at Toronto, and the employees formerly under him, regretting his departure, deemed it advisable to show their feelings in some tangible form. The presentation was made by Mr. James Wilson, master of transportation, on behalf of the employees. Mr. Wragge on rising to thank them for their kindness was received with hearty applause. Speeches were made by Mr. McNichol, passenger agent; Mr. Preston, master mechanic; Mr. Gordon, road master; and a number of other employees of the road, all of whom bore testimony to the high esteem in which the late manager was held. The silver-plate, which was subscribed for by every employee of the Toronto, Grey, & Bruce, consisted of a salver, a pair of side dishes, two pair of salt holders, a pair of ladles. There was also a silver ice-pitcher, which was presented to Mrs. Wragge by the locomotive engineers of the road. The salver, which was of beautiful design, bore the following inscription:—"Presented to Edmund Wragge, Esquire, by the employees of the Toronto, Grey, & Bruce Railway Company as a mark of their respect and esteem, and in appreciation of his many kind acts during the fourteen years he was General Manager of that railway company. December 31st, 1883." After wishing each other a Happy New Year the pleasant ceremony ended.

EPPS'S COCOA—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately-flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold by grocers only in Packets and Tins (½lb. and 1lb.), labelled—"JAMES EPPS & CO., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng. 26

The charities of Dr. Holloway, whose death in London has just been announced, within the last few years alone amounted to $1,500,000. The estimates of the extent of his fortune vary all the way from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Mrs. George Simpson, Toronto, says:—"I have suffered severely with corns, and was unable to get relief from treatment of any kind until I was recommended to try Holloway's Corn Cure. After applying it for a few days I was enabled to remove the corn, root and branch—no pain whatever, and no inconvenience in using it.

NORTH VICTORIA ELECTION PETITION.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

This case came on yesterday in the Court of Appeal by way of adjournment from Lindsay. The argument was continued by Hector Cameron, Q.C., on behalf of the respondent, Mr. Fell, who answered the charges relied upon the arguments of Messrs Osler and Johnston for the petitioner on Saturday. He argued that a tavern-keeper was the only one that could be held liable under sec. 137 in keeping his hotel open, and that his barkeeper, or whoever sold liquor, could not hold the candidate liable as his agent. In that way, counsel argued, the cases at McKelvey, Bache and others fall to the ground. Scott's case, also, can not be upheld, for he only took the liquor up to the lumber camp in his usual way. Again, the treating of Donald Sinclair was the usual treating in the country. The meetings spoken of at Chirpaw's and Cameron was not a treating of a meeting of electors. Daniels' evidence is contradicted by Anderson, McLean, and McArthur. And the agency of all the outside strangers is not proven. The respondent is not shown to have been connected with them. Even if few corrupt practices have been established they cannot affect the result under section 159.

J. A. Proctor, in reply, argued that the agency of the strangers had been fully established. That the meetings at Cameron and at Victoria Road were within the statute, though the time is short. That one was formal and the other informal. The respondent must be liable for the acts of the barkeepers of his agents under Austin v. Davis, and if not the section of the Act would be a nullity. And the election could not be said not to have been affected by the corrupt and illegal practices together.

At the conclusion of the argument the Court gave judgment on the Searl-Scott case, the Buck case, the treating at Chirpaw's, and the Greaves case, holding that none of these cases were made out.

The Court rose at 5 p.m., the judges intimating that they would sit for the purpose of giving judgment in the remainder of the case so far as it has gone on Tuesday, the 8th of January.

NORTH ONTARIO.

The trial of the North Ontario Provincial election petition is to begin to-morrow at Uxbridge before Judges Burton and Osler.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

7-20-8.

There was a large and fashionable audience at the Grand Opera House last night to witness the first production in this city of Augustin Daly's new comedy entitled "7-20-8" or "Casting the Boomerang." This comedy, which has already proved a very decided success elsewhere, promises to have an excellent run here if the temper of the audience last night could be depended on as an index of the verdict of Toronto theatre-goers upon it. Indeed in good hands such a comedy as 7-20-8 could hardly be other than a success. The plot is thoroughly interesting, and has in it enough of originality to prevent the listeners "knowing the end from the beginning." The dialogue is at all times clever and sparkling, and in places extremely humorous, while many of the situations are sufficiently funny to compare favourably with those of some of the finest of the old standard comedies. This is certainly a play that will last, and one which in good hands ought to be popular for many a year to come. As might be expected, it was admirably put upon the stage last night, with a company evidently selected with great care especially for its production. The cast was one upon which it would be difficult to improve. Flora, the heroine, could never surely hope to be more cleverly and winsomely represented than by Miss Georgine Flagg. The sweet girlish face and slight graceful figure, and that subtle combination of piquant vivacity and keenness of perception, with childish simplicity, altogether united in a picture whose realistic freshness and perfection made it hard for the audience to realize that consummate art had anything to do with it. Indeed it was something quite new and original in its way. While she looks the very ideal of dainty, budding womanhood, her keen appreciation of every point in the dialogue, the unaffected grace of her carriage, and scores of cunning little tricks in the way of by-play, prove her a thorough mistress of comedy. Mr. George Vandenhoff, Jr., as Courtney Corbin, acted the gentleman of leisure, who subsequently became very much in love, in a manner that would have done no discredit to even so distinguished an actor as Geo. Vandenhoff, Sr. (whom Toronto remembers mainly as a reader, however). Mr. Harry Hatton was very amusing as Lancelot Barpin, and the same might be said of Ernest Bartram's Professor Gadleigh, while the other characters were also admirably cast. Indeed there is not a notable weak point in this company. "7-20-8" will be repeated this afternoon and evening.

THOMAS' ORCHESTRA CONCERT.

One of the novelties on the programme for this occasion is the Scotch rhapsody entitled "Burns," by A. C. McKenzie. This writer has given to a prominent position among the first writers of the day, and has based his ideas on the following words:—

Molto maesto e risoluto.

Scots, wha hae wi' Wallace bled,
Scots, whom Bruce has often led,
Welcome to your gory bed,
Or to victory.

Andante, dolente.

She's fair and fause that causes my smart,
I lo'ed her meikle and lang;
She's broken her vow, she's broken my heart,
And I may e'en gae hang.

Vivace.

I coft a stane o' haslock woo',
To mak' a coat to Johney o't,
For Johney is my only jo,
I lo'e him best of ony yet:
The Cardin' o't, the spinnin' o't,
The warpin' o't, the winnin' o't.

THE ROYAL MUSEUM.

A large audience crowded the efforts of the different performers last night at the Royal Museum. Mr. Andrew Gaffney was again the subject of great admiration, the strength and skill he displayed with the cannon balls drawing forth loud applause. The pantomime entitled "Nix-Nax" was also well received, the occupants of the gallery being particularly demonstrative in their applause.

IRISH AFFAIRS.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—The circular said to have been issued to the Grand Masters of the Orange Societies, urging the formation of armed volunteers, was a forgery.

There is great excitement to-day in Dromore. The Orangemen there are disappointed because the Government did not prohibit the meeting of the Nationalists announced for New Year's Day, and have determined to prevent it. Troops are arriving.

The dead body of an Oranseman was found in a bog hole yesterday, near Portadown, County Armagh. The deceased had been obnoxious to the Nationalists in the vicinity.

FAVORITISM

is a bad thing, but Dr. Pierce's "Favourite Prescription" deserves its name. It is a certain cure for those painful maladies and weaknesses which embitter the lives of so many women. Of druggists. 25

The Grand Trunk Railway of Canada traffic returns for the week ending December 22nd, 1883, show a revenue of $235,522, as compared with $393,006 in the corresponding week of 1882, a decrease of $57,481.

Away Up Head.

"Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters are easily first, no matter what may come next."—J. T. Macmahon, N. Y.

LORD GRANVILLE ON MR. GLADSTONE.

London Spectator:—"There is one point," said Lord Granville, "and one point only, on which I could speak with rather more authority than any one present. I have served with several Prime Ministers, men for whom I have had the highest respect, and I may add, the greatest attachment; but I can say this, that I never knew one who showed a finer temper, a greater patience, or more consideration for his colleagues than Mr. Gladstone, in all deliberations upon any important subject. In his official position, with his knowledge, with his ability, with the wonderful power of work which characterises him, he, of course, has immense influence upon the deliberations of the Cabinet; but notwithstanding his tenacity of purpose and his earnestness, it is quite extraordinary how he attends to the arguments of all, and how, except on any question of really vital importance, he is ready to yield his opinion to the general sense of the colleagues over whom he presides." That, coming from Lord Granville, is very remarkable testimony, though testimony which we should have absolutely anticipated. The Tory tradition of Mr. Gladstone as the most arbitrary and imperious of statesmen is entirely overthrown by Lord Granville; but the Tory tradition will survive overthrowing, all the same. It is founded on that manifold root of all popular error,—the wish to believe it.

THE SOUDAN REVOLT.

Baker Pasha Created Governor-General of Eastern Soudan.

CRITICAL STATE OF AFFAIRS.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—A despatch to the Daily News from Suakim, says that El Mahdi intends to descend upon Egypt proper. The insurrectionary movement is spreading along the coast, and Baker Pasha is convinced that it is a most formidable religio-political character.

BAKER PASHA GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

A general order was issued on Monday announcing the appointment of Baker Pasha as Governor-General of Eastern Soudan. Major Holroyd, a British officer, has been dismissed from the Egyptian service for striking a native officer.

ABYSSINIAN DEMONSTRATION.

The Abyssinian demonstration on Kassala road renders the situation still more critical. Nothing can be done at present, as an immediate advance would mean disaster. The British gunboats have gone to Massowah. One thousand women and children with four hundred soldiers are bravely holding out at Sinkat. Even with the promptest action on the part of England there will be barely time to save those people from a terrible fate. It is believed there are 20,000 rebels between Suakim and Sinkat. Should the Egyptians attempt to march to Berber it is believed that 100,000 rebels would oppose them.

NOT TO BE SAT ON.

Ludicrous Episode at an Ultra-Fashionable Reception.

One of the very latest fancies of the ultra-fashionable in the matter of refreshment-serving at afternoon receptions is to serve whatever is thought proper from a very low table; not much higher than the seat of a chair in fact. A lady, now the head of an establishment in Washington, but in whom San Francisco can have a justifiable pride and interest, was one of the first to introduce this latest fashion. I am indebted to a private letter for this story about the début of this low table, and only deprive the tale of names because it would be betraying confidences to do otherwise. Well, it was Mrs. Judge E——'s Friday afternoon "at home," and among the crowd of swell callers was Madame B——, a very fashionable, very wealthy, and in size calculated to amply fill a comfortable arm-chair. In due time she found herself in the dining-room holding a dainty cup of chocolate, and standing close to, but with her back toward the low table. Women of her size, I believe, generally prefer a sitting to a standing position, and become conscious in a vague way that something about the height of a chair was directly behind her—she sat down. Everything went—table linen, table ware, ices, drinkables, salads, and pastry, with the stately Madame B—— shockingly mixed therewith on the floor. For ten minutes the gentlemen were engaged in picking, scraping, and wiping dough, jelly, mayonnaise, and ices from Madame B——'s silk and satin, while Mrs. Judge E—— endeavoured to muddy her unfortunate guest's confusion. Madame B—— at last backed from the room, and at the head of a stairway collided with and knocked down the stairs Mrs. E——'s sister, who was hurrying to the scene. She reached her carriage in a state of mind it would be useless to attempt to describe, became hysterical, sent for Mrs. E——, begged her to say something to drive away her suicidal intentions, and sobbingly declared that she would never show her face in Washington society again. I do not recommend the low table for San Francisco.—San Francisco Call.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT.

(Boston Herald.)

The news of Sir Richard Cartwright's election to the Dominion House of Commons from South Huron will profoundly grieve his Tory neighbours in the same assembly, for they thought he had been permanently shelved by Prime Minister Macdonald's gerrymandering bill, which was framed to "hive the Ontario Grits," and took Sir Richard's seat away from him in 1882. Cartwright, it will be remembered, was Minister of Finance in the Reform Cabinet of Alexander Mackenzie, and is a consistent free trader. His readiness, sharp tongue, and stinging sarcasm have made him a terror to Tory leaders, and his presence will be particularly annoying to them at this season, while the Canadian people are beginning to learn that an enormously high tariff has its drawbacks.
