The Golden Day Could Be Any Time

AONTREAL, Nov. 5-Haircuts were 10 cents, beer was a nickel a glass, with free pretzels on the bar. But Mons. Leo Dandurand and his buddy, Jean Dubuc, decided the price would be $1.25 per ticket in 1912 when they brought Ty Cobb to Montreal. That was a fancy

With two hockey teams in town, games were played on LEO DANDURAND Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights. Leo had the Canadiens then. One of his most faithful season ticket holders was a manufacturer who had some 600 hands in his plant. One day, the industrialist voiced a beef.
